ADDITIONAL INCENTIVES

Labor Market Information (LMI) is available on the state of Florida and, more specifically, the area you are operating a business. We can assist in producing, analyzing, and delivering timely and reliable labor statistics to improve economic decision-making. A variety of labor market, economic, and demographic data can be made available such as Employment and Wages, Labor Force, Economic Indicators and Population.

The Work Opportunity Tax Credit (WOTC) is a federal income tax credit that encourages companies to hire individuals from numerous qualified targeted groups of job seekers. Through WOTC, for-profit employers may receive tax credits as high as $9,600 per qualified veteran or up to $6,240 for qualified non-profit organizations. The WOTC program enables the targeted employees to gradually move from economic dependency into self-sufficiency as they earn a steady income, while participating employers are able to reduce their federal income tax liability. The amount of the credit when hiring a Veteran will depend on a number of factors, such as:

- The length of the veteran's unemployment before hire
- The number of hours the Veteran works
- The veteran's first year of wages

We have staff that work directly with our Veteran population and all of the targeted groups by working with their job searches, resumes, and any barriers they may have to employment. For more information, contact WOTC@deo.myflorida.com.

Florida Ready to Work is a career readiness and credential program focused on foundational employability and essential soft skills required in today's industries from entry level to professional jobs. It is employer driven and state sponsored by the Florida Department of Economic Opportunity. Florida Ready to Work gives participating employers a competitive-edge in reducing employee turnover and training costs, saving hiring time and money, and increasing productivity and profitability. It is a free tool that can build the skills of current and new employees, and evaluate employees for promotion.

The curriculum provides targeted, career contextualized instruction in foundational employability skills including applied Mathematics, Reading for Information and Locating Information. The program also provides a curriculum targeting essential soft skills including conveying professionalism, communicating effectively, promoting teamwork and collaboration, and thinking critically and solving problems.
